Nevada County Mine Shares Trend Higher; Exchange Excited

By FRANK J. CARTER

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24—Led by West Mines Corporation and Idaho-Maryland, of the Grass Valley-Nevada City group, both of which soared to new high record prices for the year, trading on the San Francisco Mining Exchange for the week ended April 22, shattered all records for more than fife years, the volume of business for the week amounting to 916,100 shares.

Thursday set a new five year record for a single session at 250,000 shares on the rise in silver and the announcement that the United States was off the gold standard with prospects of the value of gold increasing. This record was broken Friday with a volume of 274,300 shares while the Saturday half session saw a turnover of 160,300 shares.

Enormous buying swept into the market for West Mines, as reports were current that Orlando McCraney and Gordon Bettles were "making the dirt fly" in reopennig the old Canada Hill mine near Nevada City. West closed the week at 26 cents, a new peak for the movement. Particular attention was directed toward Idaho-Maryland on account of its excellent earnings and the prospective increase in profits under the proposed coin inflation program.

Con Chollar Gould and Savage soared to $1.30 for the first time on general conditions and on account of the opening of orebodies in the company's Overman mine on the Comstock Lode as well as the spectacular Comstock strike made on the surface of the Con Virginia property.

During the second half of the week the San Francisco Mining Exchange was crammed with frenzied traders who hailed the new activity as the beginning of the new boom era for western mining.

Pool Fund Switch Opposed

MUNICIPAL POOL IS CHAMPIONED BY C. E. PARSONS

April 24, 1933
Editor, Nevada City Nugget
Dear Sir:

Your Swimming Pool editorial today is a splendid one and you are to be commended for taking a strong stand on this important question. It is important—the very integrity of our city is at stake. The laws permitting cities to borrow money, require that it be for a specific purpose; that such monies shall not be spent otherwise. This is based on the sound theory that money borrowed for constructive purposes shall not be spent for maintenance charges. Such funds are a capital charge and not an expense charge. If this were not so communities could float bond issues and pledge future generations to pay their running expenses; thus avoiding charges that would appear on their current tax bills.

It would be analgous to obtaining a loan from your banker to build an addition to your house and then spending the money for shoes, plumbing and auto repairs that probably should have been provided for out of your current income. Needless to say no banker would listen to you the next time. A community so fickle in its desires and intent is likewise not worthy of future loans.

The swimming pool should be built and built now while costs are low. It will be a good investment. We owe it especially to the younger generation to do this. They themselves will have to pay off these bonds and they have a right to say how the money shall be spent. It is a fraud on them to take this money, because they now have no vote. It is a fraud on our sister city of Grass Valley to continually use their swimming pool while we hoard the money we have appropriated for that purpose. And let all business men of this town who may fear a slight increase to their taxes for maintenance of a swimming pool ,count the sales they loose by our citizens going to another town to swim. They trade there also. Newcomers who are building all through our hills and who take their families to Grass Valley for a swim, have no sentiment about swimming in Grass Valley and buying supplies in Nevada City.

If this money is spent along the lines pointed out in your editorial it will be a step forward. Let's go forward.

As to fear than maintenance of the swimming pool will increase the taxes. Poof; What a bogey. The amount added to our tax bill will be so small we won't notice it and if we do, it will be worth what it costs;

NETZ MOLLIFIES FIREMEN; STICKS TO SWIM POOL

Editor Nevada City Nugget
Sir:

Please allow me a few lines more in your valuable paper in regard to the swimming pool controversy.

In answer to Mr. Kilroy and a few other members of the Nevada City Fire Department who misunderstood me, I will say this: It never was my intention to hurt the feelings of anyone and least of all the members of the Fire Deparment, who are serving the city so nobly without any compensation.

Th eobjectionable phrase: "Pulling wool over peoples eyes" is no insinuation, as I understand it, and it is used in most languages over the world, meaning to try to make believe a thing which is not so. As far as I am concerned it does not make much difference if a swimming pool is built or not, but for the sake of this city's welfare and thrift I believe it would be better off with a nice and well kept swimming pool.

I have all respect and appreciation for the Fire Department as well as the City Council. I know they are both working for the best interest of the City and understand full well it is impossible to please everybody. It would be to the best interest for us all to work together in a friendly and understanding way and not get hot for a word that we believed hurt our pride.

To my way of thinking there are many things which could be improved in our city system, but remarkably nothing has been said about it in the papers, although it's freely expressed in public contact with people.

A garage man of this city told me last summer that a dozen people every day during the hot season asked him if this city had a public auto camp.

The business men of this town would do better to go on record for an auto camp, and swimming pool than to let the money voted for the latter eight years ago be spent on a water main, which could be fixed up to do nicely with outstanding water bills until the $5,000.00 voted for that purpose will be available two years from now.

Everything looks favorable for this part of the world, and we could have a heavy influx in population if we went together, cleared the deck for action and got ready to meet conditions as they come.

Let the May day election tell the City Council which course to take.

TAHOE REGION GETS 9 CIVILIAN CORPS CAMPS

Revised plans for the Civilian Conservation Corps in the Tahoe National Forest Area, according to Forest Supervisor R. L. P. Bigelow, Call for nine camps accomodation 1800 men, instead of 700 as announced a fortnight ago.

Civilian Conservation Corps camps will soon be in operation in the national forests of California, according to reports of the United States Forest Service headquarters in San Francisco. President Roosevelt on April 20 approved the establishment of 166 camps in the 19 national forests of the state distributed as follows:

Southern California: Angels, 17; Cleveland, 9; San Bernardino, 16; Santa Barbara, 15; total 57. Central California: Sequoia, 9; Sierra, 9; Stanislaus, 9; Eldorado, 6; total 33. Northern California: Tahoe, 9; Plumas, 11; Lassen, 9; Modoc, 6; Shasta, 11; Klamath, 7; Trinity, 8; Mendocino, 8; total 69. East side of Sierra Nevada: Inyo, 3 ;Mono, 3; total 6. One additional camp will be located in the California section of the Siskiyou National Forest of Oregon.

ARMY TO ASSIST

Regional Forester S. B. Show, chief of the California Region, U. S. Forest Service, will be in charge of the conservation corps activities in the national forests and will also coordinate all State, county and private C. C. C. projects in California. Mr. Show, who is now in Washington conferring with Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work, and Major R. Y. Stuart, chief of the U. S. Forest Service, is expected back shortly to direct the Federal forestry activities. C. B. Morse, assistant regional forester of the U. S. Forest Service at Ogden, Utah, will be stationed at the Presidio of San Francisco to act as liasion officier in co-ordinating the work of the Forest Service and Army throughout the Ninth Corps Area, comprising the states of California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Utah, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming.

California's national forest quota for the C. C. C. camps will be 33,000 men who will first be concentrated in Army posts where they will be clothed, fed and exercised for a period prior to their transfer to field camps. Thus far instructions are to enroll only unmarried men between the ages of 18 and 25 years, who are citizens of California and have dependants. Each applicant will be required to take an oath and sign an agreement to turn over a certain percentage of his $1.00 a day pay to his dependents. Recruiting will be handled by local relief agencies under the gnral direction of R. C. Branion of th State Department of Social Welfare.

CAMPS TO HOUSE TOO

The Army will have full charge of all C. C. C. camps, and will have an officer with necessary assistants stationed at each camp. It will also trnsport the men from the concentration posts to the field camps. All camps will be operated on the basis of 200 men.

The U. S. Forest Service will handle all men engaged on forestry work in the national forests, including their transportation between the camp and work points.

The Roosevelt conservation program, according to Forest Service officers, will afford an opportunity for the accomplishment of productive work on the national forests, for which detailed plans have been prepared, but which otherwise could not be completed for many years because of the lack of Government appropriations. The following constructive work will be done by the conservation corps workers: the clearing of firebreaks; development of camp grounds; eroision and flood control projects; building of lookout houses telephone lines, guard cabins and administrative improvements; tree planting; improvement of the range by the construction of watering places and drift fences; reseeding of denuded ranges, and the eradication of poisonous forage plants; redent control; construction of trails, bridges and secondary roads; control of pine beetle infestations and other similar projects.

NEW HIGHWAY PLAN TO HELP LIFT TAX LOAD

California towns would receive extensive benefits through relief of taxation, now borne for road and street purposes, under the highway expansion plan which is pending before the legislature, it is demonstrated by a study of the proposal. The plan is being supported jointly by the California State Automobile Association, Automobile Club of Southern California, League of California Municipalities, County Supervisors Association, State Chamber of Commerce, and Highway Protective Committee.

Among the features of the plan is a provision that not less than one-quarter of a cent of the gasoline tax shall be allocated to municipalities for expenditure on through routes which form connections with the State Highway System. A new method of allocating state highway funds to counties is also proposed, under which the counties would receive substantially increased sums for road work.

The present law provides that any county having a motor vehicle registration of less than 3.500 shall receive a minimum allocation of $20,000 a year. Thirteen counties, mostly in northern and central California, are affected by this provision. The new proposal i sthat every county in the state shall first receive a refund of $20,000 and that the balance of the one-cent tax shall be apportioned according to relative registration. Under this plan approximately $3,000,000 additional road money would be distributed to the counties.

The new highway plan provides for the addition of approximately 6,600 miles of main county roads and through routes in cities to the State Highway System, which would result in releiving county and city taxpayers of taxation now borne for the upkeep of roads and streets taken over by the state.

The automobile clubs and other sponsors of the plan have also joined in a declaration against proposals to divert gasoline tax revenues from the highway fund to the state general fund.

Driver Crashes Into Tree, Hurts Three

Charged with driving while under the influence of liquor, Glen Jacobson, Grass Valley man, is in the county jail following a hearing before Judge Oscar Winburn this morning in which he was held to answer in the Superior Court.

He was arrested by Traffic Officer Will Fouyer, following a long chase that ended with a head-on collision between the car Jacobson was driving and a sturdy oak tree beside the road. The crash occured at the top of the Rough and Ready grade.

Badly hurt were Mr. and Mrs. G. Walters of 122 Chester street, Grass Valley, when their host drove his car into the oak tree. Both were removed to the Jones Memorial hospital in a Holmes ambulance. Mrs. Walters suffered a badly cut wrist, lacerations and bruises on face and body. Her husband was knocked unconscious and did not recover his senses for some time. He received concussion of the brain and bad lacerations of the head and face.

Jacobson was also rendered unconscious and suffered broken ribs and lacerations.

Traffic Officer Fouyer had almost overtaken the erratic driver, when the accident occured. He rendered first aid, summoned the ambulance, and following Jacobson's treatment at the Jones Memorial hospital, he placed the injured driver under arrest and lodged him in the county jail.

GASOLINE CONSUMPTION SHOWS DROP IN MARCH

SACRAMENTO, April 24—Gasoline tax revenues for March were 5.6 per cent less than the same month in 1932, according to Fred E. Stewart, Member of the State Board of Equalization, who reported collections were $3,253,917 from this tax last month.

"Considering that the bank holiday occurred during the month, when general business fell to an extreme low, the loss shown is nominal," Stewart asserted.

BEER MAY HELP NEV. CO. FARMERS

SACRAMENTO, April 24—(UP)—California's farmers today are intensely interested in the effect of the return of beer—not the effect on industry or on the consumer, but on agriculture.

They are equally interested in the bill introduced in congress by Congressman Clarence Lea, of California, which would further modify the Volstead act by permitting sale of ten per cent wine.

Modificationists assert return of beer is bound to bring a decided increase in the barley crop. They point to the fact that in pre-prohibition days one-third of the nation's barley crop was used for malting purposes. There is general agreement at the state department of agriculture, however, that an increase of such proportions cannot be expected this year.

Grape growers are exerting every possible effort toward securing passage of the Lea bill. Their argument is economic, rather than social. The return of wine would, they contend, be a life-saver for the California grape industry.

According to a report issued by State Controller Ray L. Riley, Nevada county's barley acreage last year was 50 while there were 160 acres of bearing wine grapes.

Irrespective of the prospect of return of beer last year and the expected production increase as a result, California's barley growers have cut their 1933 crop approximately 25 per cent under last year's total, the state department of agriculture announced. Steady decrease in prices—quotations per bushel have slumped in the last 14 years from $1.42 to 25 cents—has discouraged the barley grower. Whether or not the return of beer will persuade him to increase his acreage for next year is, a syet, an unanswered question.

Conservative estimate of California's beer consumption for the first year is 1,250,000 barrels. Physical limitations of breweries and malt plants and the familiar slim pocketbook of the depression era have persuaded state officials the total will not go much higher. Increased consumption was forecast for the second year.

HOME BREW LEGAL

SACRAMENTO, April 24—(UP)—In case anybody is interested it is perfectly legal to produce home brew—as long as the alcoholic content is no more than 3.2 per cent.

In one of the first test cases of its kind Federal Judge Frank H. Kerrigan dismissed a charge against George Hamilton after expert testimony was introduced to show Hamilton's beer was no more intoxicating than the legal brew.

STOCKHOLDERS VISIT CANADA HILL MINE

A party of stock holders in West Mines, were guests of Messrs. O. E. McCraney and Gordon Bettles yesterday, in an inspection of the work now going forward to rehabilitate the old Charronat property, belonging to the company, on Canada Hill.

The stock holders were much pleased with the great progress which has been made in removing old buildings, clearing the ground for mine structures, and in cleaning out and retimbering the old shaft. Superintendent McCraney states that it will only be a short time before the shaft will be cleared down to water level and pumping operations can be started. Arrangements have already been made with the P. G. & E. for electric connections.

THE CHANCE GOES BY

A man does not always know his chance when it comes to him, but if he lets it pass, he will learn in time that it went by. Then, too late, he will overwhelm himself with reproaches for not seizing the golden opportunity.

Business men decry tardiness in those whom they employ, for that means not simply the waste of time that should be spent in work, but the failure to be present when Opportunity, coming without warning, knocks peremptorily and, being unanswered, summarily departs. Returning belated, one may listen eagerly for a repitition of that summons to rise and confront Destiny face to face, but it does not come. The great chance appeared unheralded and found us wanting and went away, leaving no address with which we may communicate.

For our chances do not come with brass-band music and pennons waving. They stealthily approach; they seldom advertise. They come, like successful burglars, when we expect them least. "if only we had known," we cry with vain regret. But they promptly went where there were others waiting, with trimmed lamps. These others seized what might have been our own, and all our boast of what we might have done had our "luck" been different is unavailing.

What is luck? Most of the time it means to be in the right place at the right moment. The one who is there is the winner over one who is elsewhere. And he who is there must be present not simply in the physical sense; he must attend with all his faculties. As Shakespeare reminds us, it is of no use to have our eyes open if "their sense is shut." A sentinel may be at his post, but he is futile if he sleeps.

Thus to recognize and to improve the opportunity one must be broad awake to it with the keen edge of the senses whetted. The worker who brings only part of his mind to his task is not worth the whole of the pay he draws. He will miss chances not merely for himself—those that are quickly seized may promote his own fortunes—but for the concern that, when it secured his services, supposed that it was getting every bit of the man he is. He must not expect a worker's pay unless he serves with all his senses aware.

VALUE OF A NAME

What's in a name? The answer for generations back has been "nothing." True a rose by any other name would smell as sweet but try to sell it under a different name if you would better estimate the value of a name.

The name of Alexander, Hannibal, Caesar and Napoleon evacuated walled cities, turned whole armies into disasterous retreat, and conquered empires. Those names obtained their magic from the deeds of their owners.

Because his name might have been Smith would not have prevented Shakespeare from writing his classic tragedies and in spite of their common names George Washington and Abraham Lincoln won immortal fame. Genius is as accidental as its name.

And yet American manufacturers spent millions annually on names. For the purpose of establishing a trade name business enterprises conduct nation-wide and even world-wide advertising campaigns. To many manufacturers the name of their product is their fortune, a fortune which could not be amassed without the aid of advertising.

Modern business has learned that the three essentials for success in merchandising are a worthy product, a trade-mark and an adequate advertising campaign. Advertising is as essential to retail business as to the manufacturers.

WEEKLY COMMENT

CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN

The Arizona Sheriff who came to California to take Winnie Judd back to Arizona said that he was going to take her back and hang her, his prophesy came near coming true, she will be put into an asylum and if she regains her sanity and if that sheriff is still on the job he may still have the satisfaction, if such it be, of dropping Mrs. Judd from the hangman's trap, she had better stay insane.

This may be one time in the history of the world when in a diplomatic conference the good old U. S. A. will come out at least no worse off than before the conference. There is one favorable circumstance for this country, the conference is in this country instead of in Europe. We have had a sample of our president going to Europe for a conference and some there are who think we came out second best.

Tom Scadden gave my kiddies a six week old pup this week their first one, and it is worth the price o fadmission to watch them all. It is hard to tell whether the pup or the children are having the most fun.

There has been some talk of having a Spring Festival in Nevada City some time in May, a rousing good old time. That's the livest idea to come to the front for some time.

Many who know Bill Lloyd of Downieville will be sorry to hear that he is confined to his bed with a serious lung ailment. It is hoped that soon the difficulty may be overcome so that he can again function at his business.

Thoughts while driving the Downieville road:

The widening of this road near the city limits is an asset to the town. Wonder whose cow that is running loose in the middle of the road, wonder where that bozo learned to drive he takes his part of the road right out of the middle. Must be careful in going around this turn, its pretty narrow. Pretty nearly that squirrel got his ,the silly clown. Here is that straight piece of road now I can open up a bit. Pretty good car this. There goes the mail man. It wont be long now before Si Fisher will come by. He must be late this morning and so it goes.

When the boys get through with widening the north gateway to the city why not fix up that dangerous and narrow cut at the south entrance to the town then we would have clear sailing into the business section of town and that is some asset.

There is one statement which I have heard on several occasions lately. It runs about as follows,: "well what right has that person to have any say in the politics of this community, he is not a taxpayer." This sort of propaganda is certainly a goatgetter, for no matter what is spoken of, he or she is either directly or indirectly paying his share of the taxes of whatever community he lives in, he rents a house, he buys groceries, clothes, gas, oil and many other commodities from which the property owner or leaser gets a direct gross profit and from which the taxes are paid. So why not give the credit where it belongs, I am personnally a property owner in another part of the state and I ame most grateful to the people who rent from me because they are paying my taxes and a fair return on my small investment and certainly I feel that they as much as anyone are entitled to have a say in local politics. Am I right?

And again I say awake to your opportunity this year. The tourist spends money go after that business, for whether you like to hear it or not NEVADA CITY IS THE GATEWAY TO THE MOUNTAIN PLAYGROUNDS.

Didn't know that I sometimes poetize, did you? Well I can prove it. Hold everything. Here goes.

I strolled the ocean beach at midnight,
And with a fragile reed I wrote upon the sands;
"Agnes I love you!"
There came a wave and blotted out the fair inscription
Oh! cruel wave! Aye, treacherous sands!
I'll trust thee no more;
But from Norway's bleak and frozen cliffs
There from, one of the lofiest pines I'll pluck
And dipping it into the burning crater of Vesuvius,
I shall write upon the high and burnished heavens:
"Agnes I love you!"
And I'd like to see the damn wave that will wash that off!

ALLEGHANY, April 22—Mrs. J. Woods and son Clyde of Nevada City visited relatives and friends over the week end.

Our little town was visited with more snow and wind last Easter Sunday afternoon and evening. Continued a light snow on Monday but melted rapidly. Miss Kate Eccles and Miss Josephine Owens motored to Nevada City, and Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Greene were visitors here for a short time, as they brought Miss Eccles and Miss Owens home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Meyers, Mrs. Tom Bradbury and Mr. and Mrs. Nihell motored to Sacramento to spend Easter Sunday.

Raymond Greene, student at St. Mary's College, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Greene during the Easter holidays, returning Sunday to the college to resume his studies.

R. P. Hawkins is a visitor in the Bay region.

Miss Nona Davies and sister Nellie, and Gordon Owens and Jason Davies visited Mr. and Mrs. John Owens and family at Slicer ranch beyond Grass Valley during the Easter holidays.

Ted Audel motored to Nevada City.

Jim Cornell and Jim Swan motored to Sacramento. Jim Cornell continued on to Oakland and visited Mr. and Mrs. Phil Ryan, as Mr. Ryan is very ill. His many friends here are very sorry to hear of his illness and hope he will soon improve. Mr. and Mrs. Ryan are former residents of Alleghany.

Bob Carr popular shoe merchant was in Alleghany for a day with a very select line of shoes.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnston are remodeling their home. Mr. Sutcliffe is in charge of the work.

Mr. and Mrh. Elms Trewhella visited in Nevada City. Mrs. Trewhella is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. Louis Davidson during the week.

Jack Connel was visiting in Nevada City for a day.

Dale Long and Pete Eccles visited Sacramento, Folsom, and Auburn.

We are all very happy to learn that Miss Florence Hemsash is improving after being critically ill.

Mr. Jim Donnelly teacher of the Alleghany grammar school is away for a week vacation. It really begins t olook as though Spring is really here, after the cold snowy winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Skilleu, son John and Dee Eccles visited in Grass Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Mert Foley motored to San Francisco. Mrs. Foley is visiting in the city for a short time.

Mr. Harry Ward of Santa Rosa was a visitor for a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. McDougall.

Evelyn and Dick Pieratt are visiting at the home of their aunt in Oakland. A very delicious dinner was served at the home of Mrs. Frank Roach, as it was her birthday. The invited guests were her father who had come from Reno to spend the event. Mr. and Mrs. Olsen and Mr. and Mrs. H. R. McDougall, Mr. and Mrs. Roach and their daughter Marion. A very delightful evening was spent and he was warmly greeted by his many and old time friends.

ROUGH AND READY

ROUGH AND READY April 22—Mr. J. Moody, Dan Canavan and Charles Jeep are busy getting ready to work the Sugar Loaf gravel mine in this district. They are making a tube mill from an old mine boiler and plan to start actual mine work in a couple of weeks. The property is owned by Mrs. Rose Gregg and Mrs. Capps of Rough and Ready and is located back of the Rough and Ready cemetery. It has not been worked for several years. Messrs Canavan and Jeep have had the property leased for over a year but devoted their time to the quartz mine adjoining, namely the Bunker Hill quartz mine, which is owned by the same parties and which shows a good ledge.

They plan to do further development work on it later.

Mrs. Gregg Fallace gave a birthday dinner to her mother Mrs. Taylor at Rough and Ready last Wednesday night, to which a great many friends of Mrs Taylors was invited. Mrs. Taylor is 80 years of age and is in good health, despite the fact that she had the pneumonia last January at which time very little hope was held for her recovery.

R. L. Capps spent last week end with his family here, returning Monday to the Veterans Hospital.

Mrs. John Fippin and son Elmer accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Capps on the trip. Word has just been received that Mr. Capps was operated on Thursday, which is the third operation he has had since he entered the hospital last November. He is doing very well since his last operation and hopes to return home in good health in a short time.

The Rough and Ready school has another month to run and has 26 pupils enrolled.

O. E. Clarke, in charge of operations at the Relief Hill gravel property transacted business in Nevada City the latter part of the week.

Herbert Cooper, divisional manager of the P. G & E at Auburn, was a visitor in Nevada City today.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Johnson and son visited relatives in Chico this week end.

Mrs. Will Young and daughter, Miss Beth, motored to Sacramento Saturday, with Harold Young, who came up from Oakland to attend the funeral of his late father, Will Young.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dolan returned last evening from a business and pleasure trip over the week end in San Francisco.

Miss Nellie Pascoe, who has been so seriously ill, is making some improvement from her illness.

William Lackland of North San Juan was a Nevada City visitor Saturday.

John Chegwidden of Grass Valley visited friends in Nevada City Friday at one time Mr. Chigwidden lived on Park Avenue with his mother and brother, Bert. He came to Nevada county from Victoria [illegible] Nevada in '96, and has seen many changes, but feels this section will be prosperous for long years to come.

Thomas Scaddan, who has spent the winter in Nevada City, left Saturday for his mining property, the Oak Flat and Placer Queen, four miles from North Columbia, on the famous Grizzly ridge. His first tunnel of 140 feet was too high for the channel and he is now running another one below in hard rock.

W. H. Daniels, local representative of the New York Life Insurance Company spent Saturday in Sacramento, the guest of the company at their annual Spring Conference. More than fifty from Central and Northern California agencies attended the business meeting and banquet. The reports of the various agents and executives showed a steady improvement in business conditions and a definite indication that better times are now returning.

Mr. James Grimes, who has mining interests in this section, returned to his home in Oakland today after a week's visit here with relatives.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Mrs. Chester Clemo is Hostess to Thursday Club

The Thursday Club of Gold Flat met at the home of Mrs. Chester Clemo, with an attendance of 12 members and Mrs. Harold Clemo's mother was a guest.

The meeting of the club at this time was in the nature of an Easter affair .The room being attractively decorted in yellow and pink, Easter favors at each members plate were an added feature of the prettily arranged table.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

May Pole Dance to be Spectacular Event

Elaborate plans are going forward steadily under the untiring direction of Mrs. Lyda Talbot for the best May Pole and program ever to be given in Nevada City on May first.

Lest the public in general forget, attention is called to the fact that the benefit from the big May Day Pageant and dance being produced by Mrs. Talbot goes to that splendid organization, the American Legion and its auxiliary, for their child welfare work. These young people banded together and worked for many weeks, repairing broken toys that the children of these communities might receive a call from Santa Claus, last Christmas. With hammer, and nails, paint and brush, they toiled most zealously and provided more than 150 children with toys, who would have been entirely without christmas cheer if it had not been for them.

What a splendid idea it is to have the support of the fifty or more children who are performing on May first to spread the spirit of "help the less fortunate." They are fully aware of what benefit their time and talent is going to do. This spirit of helpfulness in the children of today makes far better citizenship in the future.

The Legion asks the public to support the little kiddies who are doing splendid work at rehearsal each day, by purchasing a ticket, and witnessing this performance for a most worthy cause.

Betty Jane Lewis and Vincent Lewis are to appear in an attractive number: "Pierrot and Pierette." They are always right up on their toes in whatever is required in the line of dancing and there will be no disappointment here.

Dick Gregory, who has been so popular in past performances, is going to give his idea of "Goopies." This piece of music suggests fairy dance steps. His costuming will be the last word in style.

In the next issue of the Nugget a full program will be given and its going to look like something no one will want to miss.

P. T. A. Enjoys Excellent Program at School

A very entertaining program was rendered by the seventh and eighth grades of the Washington grammar school Friday under the supervision of the Parent Teachers Association, with Mrs. Pharris acting as class leader.

An attractive feature of the program was the playing by Mrs. William Goede in two instrumental numbers on her viola accompanied by Miss Minnie Brand.

Mrs. C. L. Davidson, council member for child health department, gave an excellent talk on pre-school age children.

The rest room which was recently completed through funds raised by the P. T. A. was inspected.

There was a good crowd of members and visitors present for the occasion.

Miss Mary Quinn Weds Football Star

At a surprise wedding, with only their mothers present, Miss Mary Patricia Quinn and Henry J. Miller, former Santa Clara football star, were married in Nevada City early Saturday morning.

The wedding was revealed by relatives here yesterday. Miss Quinn is a graduate of the University of California, 1926, the daughter of Mrs. Mary Quinn of Nevada City. Miller was graduated from Santa Clara in 1924 and is now employed as a sales engineer with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company in the East Bay district. He played three years of star football at Santa Clara and was also president of the Associated Students there.

After a honeymoon in Southern California the young couple will make their home in Berkeley.

MUNICIPAL POOL

and that is the main thing, it will be worth it. I have the right to respectfull attention on this score for I own a larger area of Nevada City than any other resident and pay taxes accordingly. Nor can I swim a stroke, so my attitude in this matter is solely for the good of the city as a whole.

Finally, to those of us who do not swim, is it not selfish to impose the cost of transportation to Grass Valley, Birdgeport or other distant resorts on those who do wish to swim or who have small children who like to paddle and who must take the time to go with them to distant places in order that they may partake of pleasure that we can afford yet deny them?

Respectfully submitted
C. E. PARSONS.
